JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Extracts from One of His Letters Written Ten Years Before the War. "Halston," in the New York Times

An old friend showed me one of his treasures a week or so ago. It was a long letter of a half dozen foolscap pages, bearing the signature of Jefferson Davis, dated more than ten years before the war. It was extremely entertaining, filled with personal chat and family gossip and tinged with political reflections. Addressed to a representative of an old Marviand family, with whom Mr Davis had all his life been juitslip and tinged with political reflections.
Addressed to a representative of an old Maryland family, with whom Mr Dayls had all his life been intimate, it is easy to conceive of the to-be chief of rebelifous states writing in this fashion: "I can only tremble when I think of the outlook for the states. The clouds are all dark. Not a sunleague nea-New York World.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Attorney-Genral Garland was at the department of justice on the 1st ult., and it is expected the will make a detailed explanation of his connection with the Pan-Electric Telephone company, and that he will make a satisfactory explanation of the charges recently brought against him. A friend of tien Garland said to-day:

"I think I know exactly what lien.
Garland's defense will be. I feli certain that he is a holder of the stock of the Pan-Electric company. He was counsel for that company before he went into the cabinet. Since then his old associates have pressed him for permission to have the United States district attorney in Tennossee bring suit against the Bell patent. He has steadily refered to take any notice of the matter of account of his personal, interests in the Bell patent. He has steadily refused to take any notice of the matter on account of his personal interests in the matter. I have heard Senator Harris complain bitterly of Garland, because of this studied indifference. Towards the last, some of the stockholders who were interested in having the suit brought, went to Mr. Garland and said his position of negative indifference and refusal to act was working injury to private rights. "Now, I don't know what followed, but I believe that Garland then did what any right-minded judge would do when a case that sounds well. It will each the not-uncover before you; that is, for your dollar's cake. Be gone but a moment, and schemes and plots the mastlest are also; Keep John and Andrew at home—there is no need that they should go above Baltimore for their schooling."

But it was not all in this turget, dyspentic tone that the letter went on. Think

Morrison of Illinois, author of the famous 20 per cent, horizongal reduction tariff bill of the last congress, who is in Washington on department business:

In answer to the inquiry, "What is the outlook for tariff legislation in the conging session of congress?" Mr. Morrison to the congress of congress? Why is the congress of congress? Why is the congress of congress? The mything but a repetition of history in regard to the tariff question.
